Buffet Lunch

The II LAWTTIP Joint Conference will put the political and social debate on the substantive implications of TTIP and other EU trade agreements of new generation for the Union's system of protection of its values and fundamental rights into a legal perspective. Particular emphasis will be given in this respect to the possible developments related to the finalization of the TTIP, the negotiation of which has been provisionally 'frozen' by Trumps' Administration.

Conference convener

The Conference is convened by the International Research Centre on European Law (<http://www.cirde.unibo.it/en/>) of the University of Bologna (director: Prof. Dr. Lucia Serena Rossi).

Conference registration
