Italian Standing Group on International Relations

PhD Programme in Political and Social Sciences Summer School “Changes and Challenges in International Relations”

The PhD Summer School addresses some of the most important theoretical and empirical questions in contemporary international politics, with a special focus on how to understand global changes and challenges in foreign policy and international security. The PhD Summer School will take place from October 12 to October 15 2018 and will be organized into four major areas: Theoretical Problems in the Study of IR; Strategic Thought in IR Theory; Formal Theory in IR; Qualitative Methods for Studying IR. The PhD Summer School is organized in cooperation with the XI Annual Conference of the Italian Standing Group on International Relations. The PhD Summer School has been organized by the Department of Political and Social Sciences, University of Bologna which was funded as Department of Excellence MIUR (departments ranked first in Italy for their research quality) under the Finance Law 232, 01.12.2016).
